Ann Landers

 trouble with my 20-year-old daughter. She is attractive, bright and holds a high-paying job.
 Stephanie has been going with a divorced man who says he is 32. He looks 42. She met him at work and has fallen hard. The man's wife was a tramp and he has custody of their four children. The youngest is only two years old. A housekeeper takes care of the children.
 Stephanie has gone with this man for only 2½ months and he has asked her to marry him. I'm afraid he is looking for a mother for his children rather than a wife. Every weekend when the housekeeper is off she goes to his home and works like a horse.
 Stephanie says I must allow her to lead her own life. I'm a widow and she insists I am hanging on to her because she is all I have. This is not true — I want her to marry somebody, but I want it to be a good marriage, and I don't think this is right for her. — SAD MOM

Dear Mom: A 20-year-old who takes on a 32-year-old man with four children after only 2½ months of courtship could be making a big mistake.
 Ask her to give the romance another six months. I'm betting if you keep mum and not put her in the position where she must defend her choice, she'll break it off. It's hard for a mother to remain silent in such circumstances, but silence is your best ally.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
